Part I. Theoretical Perspectives on Drug Use and Addiction..... 1

1. A Sociological Theory of Drug Addiction..... 4

Alfred R. Lindesmith

The late Dr. Lindesmith argues that opiate addiction results from the conscious awareness that continued drug use is necessary to prevent the pain associated with opiate withdrawal.

2. Some Considerations on the Disease Concept of Addiction..... 16

Jennifer L. Syvertsen

The author outlines addiction theory, rhetoric, and treatment outcomes and weighs the evidence that drug addiction is a chronic, relapsing disease influenced by biological, psychosocial, and environmental factors.

3. The Use of Marijuana for Pleasure: A Replication of Howard S. Becker's Study of Marijuana Use..... 27

Michael L. Hirsch, Randall W. Conforti, and Carolyn J. Graney

A generation ago, sociologist Howard Becker believed that deriving pleasure from marijuana was a learned process. He suggested also that marijuana users progressed through a series of stages. Hirsch and his colleagues test Becker's theory in their study of marijuana users, many of whom are college students.

4. Dope Fiends and Degenerates: The Gendering of Addiction in the Early Twentieth Century..... 36

Mara L. Keire

A description of the "femininity of addiction" that continued into the twentieth century, despite major demographic changes among drug users.

5. Sociopharmacology of Drug Use: Initial Thoughts . . . . . 46
Samuel R. Friedman
 The author looks at drug use in a broad socioeconomic context and suggests that future research and policy should focus more on social change, rather than on drug users themselves.
- *6. The Social Impact of Drugs and the War on Drugs:
 The Social Construction of Drug Scares . . . . . 54
Craig Reinerman
 A critical analysis of historical and contemporary drug scares in the United States.

8. Gateway to Nowhere: How Alcohol Came to Be
 Scapegoated for Drug Abuse. . . . . 72
Stanton Peele and Archie Brodsky
 A critical commentary on the gateway theory and its relevance to drug policy.
- *9. Drinking Like a Guy: Frequent Binge Drinking Among
 Undergraduate Women . . . . . 78
Amy M. Young, Michele Morales, Sean Esteban McCabe, Carol J. Boyd, and Hannah D'Arcy
 A study of gender, gender relations, and alcohol use among female undergraduate students.
10. Smoking: What Does Culture Have to Do With It? . . . . . 96
Mark Nichter
 This commentary addresses the concepts of ethnicity and culture in the context of adolescent smoking and identifies innovative research approaches that will enable us to better understand the patterns and trajectories of youths who choose to smoke.

Part III. Marijuana . . . . . 104

11. Marijuana: Assassin of Youth . . . . . 108
Harry J. Anslinger and Courtney Ryley Cooper
 Written during the 1930s, this article argues against the use of marijuana, noting the harmful effects of the drug.

12. Medical Marihuana in a Time of Prohibition ..... 114
Lester Grinspoon
 Lester Grinspoon advocates the medical benefits of marijuana and discusses how restrictive laws governing the substance should be altered so that it can be made available to the public.
- *13. Blunts and Blowtjes: Cannabis Use Practices in Two Cultural Settings and Their Implications for Secondary Prevention ..... 124
Stephen J. Sifaneck, Charles D. Kaplan, Eloise Dunlap, and Bruce D. Johnson
 A comparative study of how cannabis preparations, rituals, and the social context of use differ across two cultures.
14. The Power of 420 ..... 135
Karen B. Halnon
 Call it the sociological surprise of marijuana culture. The universal code for getting high has been transformed into a mighty symbol for stoner identity and a vehicle for sharing an authentic collective consciousness.

Part IV. Heroin and Other Opiates ..... 142

15. 'Dope Fiend' Mythology ..... 145
Alfred R. Lindesmith
 The author describes public images of drug addicts and criticizes these perceptions.
16. OxyContin: Miracle Medicine or Problem Drug? ..... 152
James A. Inciardi and Jennifer L. Syvertsen
 The authors provide an in-depth examination of the powerful prescription narcotic OxyContin, particularly focusing on how the media have created an "epidemic" of abuse.
- *17. The OxyContin Epidemic and Crime Panic in Rural Kentucky ..... 163
Kenneth D. Tunnell
 An article that describes the social construction of the alleged relationship between OxyContin abuse and crime in Kentucky.
18. Taking Care of Business: The Heroin Addict's Life on the Street ..... 178
Edward Preble and John J. Casey
 The authors describe the daily activities of heroin users and suggest that use of the drug creates a sense of purpose in users' lives.
