DIRECTORY OF DATA SOURCES

2025

Presentation

In order to reflect the diversity of tools available to monitor the use of licit and illicit substances, the health or criminal consequences of such use, and the public responses implemented, the OFDT has been updating a directory of statistical data sources since 1994. This new edition has been expanded to include sources relating to gambling, which has been part of the OFDT's statutory remit since July 2020.

This directory is not exhaustive, but it includes:

- sources produced or co-produced by the OFDT, namely general population surveys and quantitative or qualitative information schemes;
- annual overviews produced by the OFDT, which draw on data from surveys and external sources;
- external sources collected and analysed by the OFDT (not included in the annual overviews).

Each source is described using the same template: description of the coordinating body, main objectives of the source, frequency, number of units or individuals observed, sampling method, coverage bias, type of data collected, publication timeframe and format, access to the most recent results, etc. The fields are described in accordance with a single reading guide.

Sources produced or co-produced by the OFDT

- Health Behaviour in School-aged Children (HBSC)
- European School Survey on Alcohol and other Drugs (ESPAD) – French section
- National Adolescent Health and Substance Use Survey in Middle and High Schools (EnCLASS)
